BEACH BUMMER

I SHOULD'VE KNOWN FROM THE GET GO, 2010 WAS GOING TO BE A CRAZY AUCTION WEEK. BEFORE THE FIRST CAR HIT THE BLOCK IN SCOTTSDALE, POLICE WERE HOOKING MCG'S FRIEND AND FOUNDING BEACH BOY MEMBER AL JARDINE'S HEMICUDA RECREATION. YOU MAY REMEMBER SEEING THIS ONE FEATURED IN THE JULY 2006 ISSUE OF MCG. WHEN BARRETT RAN THE CAR'S VIN, IT CAME UP AS A STOLEN CAR! WHEN ALL WAS SAID AND DONE, THE CAR WAS FOUND TO BE CLEARED YEARS BEFORE, SO IT WAS BACK ON THE AUCTION FLOOR. THERE'S NO TELLING IF ALL OF HE PRE AUCTION CONTROVERSY HURT THE CAR'S ULTIMATE SELLING PRICE OF $81,400 OR NOT.

tightly connected than either would ever admit publically. If there was ever an event that more demonstrated the need for declared value collector car insurance, this was it! Think of all the shows where you leave your car parked overnight under a tent or in a building. This random destruction could repeat itself on any given weekend, anywhere in the country. This year also proved you can't discount any event for a prime opportunity to score a great deal on a Mopar. I warned you last month, 2010 was going to be a wild ride, and we're just getting started.

Until next month, Mopar to ya! ✘

WWF'S GOT NOTHING ON BARRETT

B-J WAS NOT WITHOUT DRAMA. THIS SHIRT, WORN BY BRIAN STYLES, HIGHLIGHTING A CAR DEAL GONE TERRIBLY WRONG, NEARLY CAUSED A BRAWL ON THE AUCTION FLOOR. ACCUSED AND ACCUSER NARROWLY ESCAPED THROWING BLOWS!
